A WANDERING SPIRIT

Boldness, perfection, originality, accessibility. Our menu fearlessly travels to exotic destinations, takes detours and honours the great classics. The same desire for eclecticism and openness characterizes both our starred restaurants, Villa René Lalique in Wingen-sur-Moder in Alsace and the Lalique Restaurant at Château Lafaurie-Peyraguey in Sauternes. The challenge is unchanging: to surprise in the present while remaining faithful to the past.

In the hallowed atmosphere of Scotland's oldest working distillery, nestled in the heart of the breathtaking Highlands, fine wines from six continents have been assembled to reveal their charms and enable wine enthusiasts to explore any region of the world. The list offers a total of six hundred wines, 240 of which have been awarded between 90 and 100 points by world-renowned critics Robert Parker and James Suckling. In a superb Lalique setting, myriad delights beckon: vintage bottles and dust-covered treasures, including a phenomenal Lafaurie-Peyraguey from 1920, and of course legendary names such as La Tâche, Petrus and Clos Sainte Hune. A wide range of exceptional wines offered at accessible prices. Alsace, Burgundy, Sauternes, Saint-Émilion, Médoc, Pays d'Oc, Italy, Spain, Portugal, California, Argentina, Chile, South Africa, Australia... Not forgetting the choice from Vignobles Silvio Denz and Hansjoerg Wyss' Halter Ranch – associate partners in The Glenturret – available by the glass and for sale at The Glenturret Boutique.

As the French author André Maurois declared, "the civilizations that produce wine are sensitive and refined; they respect all that is most precious to mankind: time, patience, taste, and judgement". The same may be said of those that produce whisky. At the bar, an extensive selection of Scottish malts, with a vast range of flavours and characters, is accompanied by the cuisine of Executive Chef Mark Donald. Immerse yourself in Celtic culture and deepen your appreciation of the famous uisge beatha – the water of life – while also sampling the country's gastronomic specialities. Revealing and intensifying, but not overstating or exaggerating: simply letting authenticity speak for itself.

In the setting of a welcoming table, these different worlds meld in a fusion of voluptuous pleasures. New marriages emerge between the gold of Scotland (The Glenturret whisky), the gold of Sauternes and the crystal of Alsace, celebrating the age-old traditions and expertise of The Glenturret distillery (250 years), the Lafaurie-Peyraguey and Faugères vineyards (400 years) and Lalique Crystal (130 years). These elements are mutually enhancing: The Glenturret whiskies are partially aged in casks from Silvio Denz's properties and Hansjoerg Wyss' Halter Ranch. Both men are respectful guardians of a cultural heritage, both have an intuition for complementarity: for recognizing and reinforcing echoes, connections, and relationships for, ultimately, it is these that touch our emotions.

ROBERT PARKER

Robert Parker, a lawyer from Maryland with a keen interest in wine, initially created The Wine Advocate for a circle of friends. Its subscription was to rise to 50,000. Over the space of a few years, he became the most influential critic in the world, thanks to his rigorous, conscientious and fundamentally independent approach. For more than three decades, his notes have determined the fate of wines from top producers all over the world. An uncompromising judge, he has also managed to upset long-established hierarchies. Millions of copies of the Parker Guides have been sold. His name continues to dominate in five continents.

SCORING CRITERIA

96–100: an extraordinary wine of profound and complex character displaying all the attributes expected of a classic wine of its variety. Wines of this calibre are worth a special effort to seek out and sample.

90–95: an outstanding wine of great complexity and distinguished character. In short, these are terrific wines.

JAMES SUCKLING

James Suckling is one of the foremost wine critics, having tasted more than 220,000 wines over nearly four decades. His website JamesSuckling.com was founded in 2010 and now features more than 100,000 tasting notes, numerous tasting reports, high-definition videos and other wine-related articles, reaching 10 million followers globally. He and his team rated more than 25,000 wines last year from all over the world.

The JamesSuckling.com Great Wines live events have become some of the biggest and most popular wine tasting events around the world. In 2018 the James Suckling Wine Central wine bar opened in Central Hong Kong and is now established as the top wine bar in the city for wine professionals, discerning collectors and wine lovers. You may recognize James Suckling from Masterclass.com where he is exclusively featured in all wine programmes.

In partnership with Lalique, he has designed the 100 Points glass collection, thoroughly functional but uniquely beautiful glassware - available for sale at The Glenturret Boutique.

THE 100 POINTS GLASS

THE LALIQUE & JAMES SUCKLING 100 POINTS COLLECTION

The unmistakable touch of Lalique crystal gives a unique experience to wine drinking, with thoroughly functional but uniquely beautiful glassware - an everyday luxury.

The 100 POINTS collection of internationally acclaimed wine critic James Suckling and esteemed French crystal-maker Lalique embraces modern design and exceptional tradition, with glasses and decanters for discerning wine lovers who value great quality and craftsmanship.
